THE KITTENS ARE COMING

Save an adult cat from the whining, the crying, the constant sound of rattling toys.

March 31, 2017 (Atlanta, GA) – The Atlanta Humane Society is hoping to adopt out all 113 adult cats currently looking for homes before kitten season hits the shelter.

From Friday, March 31 through Sunday, April 2, the Atlanta Humane Society will be waiving the adoption fees for all cats over 6 months of age. Adoptions include age-appropriate vaccinations, sterilization, a bag of Purina cat food, and a free veterinary exam with VCA Animal Hospitals.

“Year after year, we see our adult cats sit in the shelter all summer long being passed by for a kitten. These adult cats are loving companions, have outgrown their silly kitten behaviors and are often more relaxed, but summer after summer they get overlooked,” said Tara High, Vice President of Operations at the Atlanta Humane Society. “We’re hoping that highlighting these loving companions and waiving their adoption fees will help shorten the time it takes for them to find their loving homes.”

You can view all cats who qualify for this adoption special at atlantahumane.org/adopt/fee-waived-cats. AHS’ regular adoption policies and procedures apply.
